

Erie Canalway Ticket to Ride PROGRAM GUIDELINES

Erie Canalway Ticket to Ride offers transportation and educational program funding for schools across New York State. By covering bus and tour fees, the program makes it possible for schools to take advantage of first-rate educational field trips to designated museums and historic sites throughout the Erie Canalway National Heritage Corridor.

The program is designed to:

1. Reinforce classroom learning about the Erie Canal with hands-on experiences at authentic canal sites.
2. Provide greater access to New York's rich historic and cultural sites for rural and urban students from varying environments and demographic backgrounds.
3. Improve critical thinking skills and recall of information by offering place-based, hands-on, and experiential learning opportunities to expand and enhance classroom teaching.
4. Inspire students to consider what their generation might accomplish with the kind of vision, hard work, and spirit of innovation that were hallmarks of canal building in New York State.
5. In addition to reflecting the NYS Education Department's Social Studies Standards, each tour site presents a unique local story that enhances the statewide story of the Erie Canal. For example, your students may:
 - Gain first-hand knowledge about how boats and cargo were weighed (Erie Canal Museum, Syracuse);
 - See the remains of one of the largest aqueducts from the 1800s (Schoharie Crossing State Historic Site, Fort Hunter);
 - Experience how boats were built and repaired (Chittenango Landing Canal Boat Museum, Chittenango);
 - Climb alongside the famous Flight of Five Locks (Erie Canal Discovery Center, Lockport).

Generous support for Ticket to Ride is provided in part by the National Park Foundation, National Park Service, and NYSUT.
